Portuguese ceramics

Decorative pieces entirely handmade and painted by Portuguese ceramists.
They can be fixed to the wall. These decorative pieces are made in very high quality renowned workshops, located in Caldas da Rainha region (in central Portugal), the ancestral cradle of Portuguese ceramics.

Traditional black ceramic swallows, or original black matte version, simple and pure...

Traditional or contemporary ceramic Sardines with elegant shapes and bright colours.

Pastes of black and green olives, produced in an artisanal way with Portuguese varieties.
The black olive paste variety, ‘Negrinha do Douro’, with spices, and the green olive paste variety, ‘Galega’, with fig,

N°1 - ‘Negrinha do Douro’ olive paste with spices
Produced in olive groves on the steep slopes of the Douro Valley region, this PDO olive, combined with spices and preserved only in extra virgin olive oil, has a violet black color, natural to fresh olives, a creamy appearance, with pieces of spices, with intense odor characteristic of fresh olives.

N°2 - ‘Galega’ green olive paste with dry figs
This paste is a mixture of the Galega olive, a unique variety in the world and known as the “Portuguese olive”, with a vibrant green color, and the honeyed fig, produced in the region of Trás-os-Montes - Portugal, which gives it sweetness. for acidity balance.

Taste surprising Portuguese flavours with these original jams in tubes! Made in an artisanal way, they are among the best handmade and gourmet jams in the world, with several international awards for flavour.

N°1 - 'Rocha' Pear (PDO) is an exclusively Portuguese variety produced, for the most part, on the Central West Coast of Portugal. It is a fruit with an appetizing color, texture and flavor. 'Douro' Muscatel, a liqueur wine, makes an extremely delicate and light connection with Rocha pear, making it a sweet with a unique flavor.

N°2 - This pumpkin jam is the most traditional Portuguese jam and one of the most used by the Portuguese. A delicate mixture of pumpkin and orange, rosemary honey and eucalyptus honey, cinnamon and almond, make this jam unique.

N°3 - This sweet jam, with cherry from Fundão PGI (Protected Geographical Indication), a cherry variety traditionally grown in the heart of Cova da Beira, of firm and fleshy consistency, is flavored with the brandy of unique aroma and flavor.

N°4 - Blueberry Jam of the Duke variety, a berry with a resistant texture and an attractive blue-purple color, of high quality, with a semi-sweet and mild flavor, a wild fruit, with flavors ranging from the slightly sweet, sour and bitter, flavored with Port wine, from the Douro Valley region.

N°5 - Bravo de Esmolfe apple, is an apple with Protected Designation of Origin (PDO), from Beira Alta, juicy, sweet and at the same time acidic, which combined with cinnamon, creates a delicate jam with a unique flavor, very appreciated for spreading bread, croissants, toasts and accompanying with a tea.

N°6 - This fig jam, variety honey drop, produced in the region of Trás-os-Montes, is a sweet, tasty fruit with a consistent pulp, mixed with orange from the Algarve region, a sweet and sour fruit, and flavored with Port wine, one of the most appreciated liqueur wines in the world produced in the Douro Valley.

Elegant metal box with a selection of two illustrious Port wines from the Douro Valley:
> 1 Graham's Late Bottled Vintage.
> 1 Graham's 10 year Old Tawny.
Graham's was founded in 1820 and belongs to the Symington family.

In the South of Portugal, there is a wild, exuberant and strong spirit called "Aguardente de Medronho". "Aguardente" means fire water and "Medronho" is the fruit of the "Medronheiro", also called strawberry tree. This spirit is one of the most popular Portuguese drinks: The 'Pura' one is still distilled by traditional method.

The 'Vila das Rainhas' cherry liqueur from Obidos, of exceptional quality, made in respect of traditions, and from the best fruits. Intense in aroma and flavor of morello cherry, ruby color, round and velvety in the mouth, this liqueur is produced according to a monastic recipe, in a artisanal way, without artificial colors or aromas. Affectionately called 'Ginjinha', this traditional liqueur can be served as an aperitif, or as a digestive.

Renowned for their artisanal manufacture, the 'Saudade' soaps are produced from ingredients of vegetable origin and enriched with organic olive oil. These luxury soaps are carefully wrapped by hand in a delicate sheet of vegetal paper, and then placed inside of a premium box with 'Saudade' gold stamped.

- 1 - The 'Verbena soap' has a milder fragrance, but no less notorious. Its scent is delicate and pleasant.
- 2 - The 'Perfect Love' soap, known as Violet, conveys a sense of serenity and tranquility, due to its soothing and anti-inflammatory properties.
- 3 - With white jasmine notes and marked by an intense heat that mixes amber, musk and a subtle touch of vanilla, the 'Vanilla Ambar' soap leaves a trail of enigmatic and captivating aromas.
- 4 - With a more woody fragrance, developed through sublime touches of pine, cedar and patchouli, the 'Pine Cedar' soap combines with a fresh aroma of pine branches chosen with dedication.
- 5 - With a timeless and aphrodisiac combination, the 'Orange and Cinnamon' soap transmits a powerful fragrance of well-being, providing a feeling of calm and comfort.
