Portuguese symbols and souvenirs

Ceramic Swallows

It is no exaggeration to say that the swallow is one of Portugal's most iconic symbols. A symbol of love and loyalty, as well as home and family, this bird embodies feelings deeply rooted in Portuguese culture.

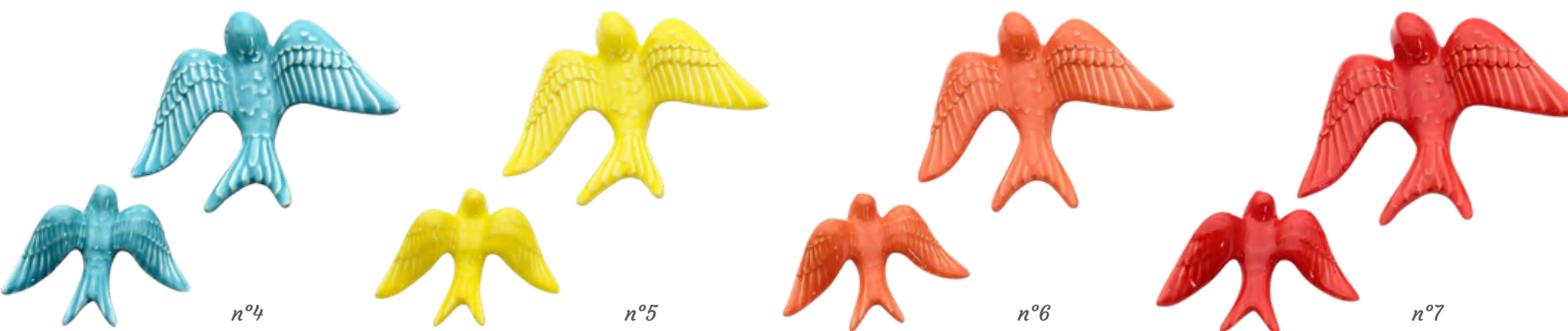

It all began in 1891, when Rafael Bordallo Pinheiro designed the first ceramic swallow at his famous factory. The design quickly became a bestseller and a symbol of Portuguese life, and today you can find these 'andorinhas' everywhere.

Delicate and charming, these swallows are a true icon of Portugal and make one of the most memorable souvenirs to offer.

These decorative pieces are entirely handmade and hand-painted by Portuguese ceramists, and can be mounted on the wall. They are produced in highly regarded workshops in the Caldas da Rainha region, the ancestral cradle of Portuguese ceramics.

Choose between traditional black swallows or contemporary colourful designs – the choice is yours!

Barcelos Roosters

It is said that the famous Barcelos rooster brings good fortune and happiness.

We suggest these handmade ceramic Portuguese roosters, crafted by an exceptional ceramic workshop.

The craftsmanship is exquisite: the curves and edges are perfectly shaped, the ceramic is smooth and flawless, and for the monochrome models, the colours are bright with a magnificent glazed finish.

Gourmet Olive Pastes

Artisanally produced from Portuguese olive varieties, these gourmet pastes offer rich and authentic flavours.

Discover the black olive paste 'Negrinha do Douro', delicately seasoned with spices, and the green olive paste 'Galega', subtly blended with fig.

1 - 'Negrinha do Douro' olive paste with spices.

Produced in olive groves on the steep slopes of the Douro Valley region, this PDO olive, combined with spices and preserved only in extra virgin olive oil, has a violet black color, natural to fresh olives, a creamy appearance, with pieces of spices, with intense odor characteristic of fresh olives.

2 - 'Galega' green olive paste with dry figs.

This paste is a mixture of the Galega olive, a unique variety in the world and known as the "Portuguese olive", with a vibrant green color, and the honeyed fig, produced in the region of Trás-os-Montes - Portugal, which gives it sweetness. for acidity balance.

Gourmet Jams

Discover surprising Portuguese flavours with these original jams in tubes.

Artisanally made using high-quality ingredients, they are among the finest gourmet jams, internationally awarded for their exceptional flavour.

1 - 'Rocha' Pear (PDO) is an exclusively Portuguese variety produced, for the most part, on the Central West Coast of Portugal. It is a fruit with an appetizing color, texture and flavor. 'Douro' Muscatel, a liqueur wine, makes an extremely delicate and light connection with Rocha pear, making it a sweet with a unique flavor.

2 - This pumpkin jam is the most traditional Portuguese jam and one of the most used by the Portuguese. A delicate mixture of pumpkin and orange, rosemary honey and eucalyptus honey, cinnamon and almond, make this jam unique.

3 - This sweet jam, with cherry from Fundão PGI (Protected Geographical Indication), a cherry variety traditionally grown in the heart of Cova da Beira, of firm and fleshy consistency, is flavored with the brandy of unique aroma and flavor.

4 - Blueberry Jam of the Duke variety, a berry with a resistant texture and an attractive blue-purple color, of high quality, with a semi-sweet and mild flavor, a wild fruit, with flavors ranging from the slightly sweet, sour and bitter, flavored with Port wine, from the Douro Valley region.

5 - Bravo de Esmolfe apple, is an apple with Protected Designation of Origin (PDO), from Beira Alta, juicy, sweet and at the same time acidic, which combined with cinnamon, creates a delicate jam with a unique flavor, very appreciated for spreading bread, croissants, toasts and accompanying with a tea.

6 - This fig jam, variety honey drop, produced in the region of Trás-os-Montes, is a sweet, tasty fruit with a consistent pulp, mixed with orange from the Algarve region, a sweet and sour fruit, and flavored with Port wine, one of the most appreciated liqueur wines in the world produced in the Douro Valley.

Discover our selection of flavoured teas, capturing the authentic taste of Portugal.

Perfect for gifting, these teas come in attractive metal boxes, beautifully decorated with traditional Portuguese 'azulejos' patterns.

1 - A delicious combination of the strength of black tea and the sweetness of peels and pieces of orange.

2 - A delicious combination of the strength of black tea and the aroma of the emblematic 'Pastel de Nata'.

3 - Tea with the sweet taste of almonds from Algarve, the southern region of Portugal.

4 - Tea with Alcobaga apples, known for centuries for their intense aromas and sweet flavours.

5 - Tea with white melon from Ribatejo: The melon produced here is a white melon with a very light yellow skin and a tender and delicately sweet flesh.

Fine Coffees

Founded in 1924, Negrita started as a small grocery warehouse, offering cod, soap, preserves, and grinding spices and coffee. From the 1970s, the company shifted its focus to coffee importing and roasting, leveraging decades of experience to craft exceptional blends. Situated in the heart of Lisbon's Arroios district, the roastery honors traditional roasting methods—a family craft refined over generations. Today, Negrita stands as Lisbon's oldest coffee roastery, combining over a century of heritage with careful selection, roasting, and blending of beans from diverse origins. The result is coffee of outstanding quality: consistently smooth, balanced, and full of character. Available as whole beans ('grão') or ground ('moído') to suit different brewing preferences. A true taste of Portugal, created for those who value authenticity in every cup!

Creative Soaps 'Castelbel'

Offer a little piece of Portugal with these aromatic soaps. Made from a 100% vegetable base and the finest ingredients, each soap is hand-wrapped in paper featuring illustrations of Lisbon, Porto, and the Algarve coast. Perfect as a fragrant souvenir, these soaps are creations of the renowned Castelbel brand, celebrated for its high-quality, refined products, proudly crafted in the Porto region.

1 - Lisbon

It smells good, it smells like Lisbon! What better fragrance to represent the Portuguese capital, a city famous for its popular festivals, than 'Manjerico'?

2 - Porto

A scent with a Northern Portuguese accent! A soap dedicated to the City of Camellias is scented, naturally, with the fresh and intense floral fragrance of the Camellia.

3 - Algarve

The aroma of the Portuguese paradise! And what more perfect scent to give life this soap dedicated to the Algarve than a breeze of Sea salt and orange?

Luxury Soaps 'Castelbel'

These soaps celebrate the centuries-old art of Portuguese tile-making. Made with high-quality ingredients and a 100% vegetable base, each soap is hand-wrapped in paper featuring tile motifs, tied with a ribbon, and finished with a small, authentic tile. All are creations of the prestigious Castelbel brand, renowned for its refined, high-quality soaps.

- 1 - Lavender Chamomile is close, calming, essential for the mind and spirit. A fusion of two natural scents known for their tranquillity: Lavender & Chamomile.
- 2 - Santal Tonka is complex, warm, with notes of wood. An exotic combination of Sandalwood and Tonka Bean that entrances the senses and warms the heart.
- 3 - Green Sencha is revitalizing, green, fresh. Inspired by oriental Sencha tea, it reinvigorates and infuses us with energy and good vibes, combining notes of green tea with juicy citrus fruits.
