 Portuguese symbols and souvenirs

Ceramic Swallows

The Portuguese swallow, or ‘Andorinha’, is one of the country's most iconic symbols. Associated with love, loyalty, family and the feeling of home, it holds a special place in Portuguese culture and tradition. Inspired by the famous ceramic swallows first created by Rafael Bordallo Pinheiro in the late 19th century, these decorative pieces have become a timeless symbol of Portugal. Handmade and hand-painted by Portuguese ceramists, they are produced in renowned workshops in the Caldas da Rainha region, the historic heart of Portuguese ceramics.

Available in two sizes and a variety of colours, from the iconic traditional black swallow to contemporary colourful designs, these ceramic swallows are ready to hang and instantly add a touch of Portuguese charm to any interior. An authentic Portuguese gift that celebrates heritage, craftsmanship and timeless design.

'Acushla' Premium Olive Oils

Founded in the Trás-os-Montes region of northern Portugal, 'Acushla' is renowned for producing exceptional organic extra virgin olive oils that reflect the richness of Portugal's olive-growing heritage. Combining traditional craftsmanship with a commitment to excellence, the brand is recognised for the quality, authenticity and distinctive character of its olive oils.

Discover three signature olive oils, each expressing the unique personality of a traditional Portuguese olive variety. Presented in elegant 60ml tubes, they offer a refined introduction to the world of premium Portuguese olive oils.

1 - 'Verdeal' Olive Oil

Delicately fruity and elegant, with notes of tomato, apple and dried fruits, offering a smooth and harmonious finish.

2 - 'Madural' Olive Oil

Balanced and medium-fruity, revealing hints of fresh grass, apple and dried fruits, with a pleasant, rounded character.

3 - 'Cobrançosa' Olive Oil

Intensely fruity and complex, featuring fresh herbal notes and a long, peppery finish.

'Acushla' Gold Edition Organic Extra Virgin Olive Oil

Produced from century-old olive groves, 'Acushla' Gold Edition Organic Extra Virgin Olive Oil offers a beautifully balanced profile with medium fruitiness and more pronounced bitter and peppery notes than the classic blend. Presented in an elegant 60ml tube, it is a distinguished choice for gourmet gift selections.
